Middle Schools (7-8): language arts, math, science, social studies, the arts, physical education, health education, and career and technical education, life, and careers. Utah Admin. Code R277-700-5
High Schools (9-12): language arts, math, science, social studies, the arts, physical and health education, career and technical education, educational technology, general financial literacy, and library media skills. Utah Admin. Code R277-700-6.

Home School Statute: Utah Code Ann. § 53A-11-102(2).

A child “shall be excused from attendance” at the public school if the child’s parent annually files a signed affidavit with the minor’s school district.

1. The parent must file an affidavit for each minor taught at home each year. The affidavit must contain a statement that the minor will be instructed in the subjects that the State Board of Education requires in public schools and that the minor will be instructed for the same length of time as minors are required by law to receive instruction in public schools. Utah Code Ann. 53A-11-102(2)(b).
2. The parent of a minor who attends a valid homeschool is solely responsible for (i) the selection of instructional materials and textbooks, (ii) the time, place, and method of instruction, and (iii) the evaluation of the home school instruction. Utah Code Ann. 53A-11-102(2)(c).
3. A local school board may not (i) require a parent of a minor who attends a home school to maintain educational records, (ii) require credentials for individuals providing home school instruction, (iii) inspect home school facilities, or (iv) require standardized or other testing of home school students. Utah Code Ann. 53A-11-102(2)(d).

4. The school board shall issue a certificate to a homeschool program within 30 days after receipt of the affidavit “stating that the minor is excused from attendance during the time specified on the certificate.” Utah Code Ann. § 53A-11-102(3)

Alternative Statutes Allowing for Home Schools: Groups of homeschoolers have established themselves as a “regularly established private school” under Utah Code Ann. § 53A-11-101.5. According to the Department of Education, it has no jurisdiction over private schools. The only requirement that may apply is obtaining a business license.

Teacher Qualifications: None.

Standardized Tests: Not required by statute.
