

REASONS TO JOIN HSLDA

Your membership provides you with:

1. Professional legal representation

You receive expert legal counsel regarding homeschooling. With a broad range of experience—from local issues to Supreme Court cases—our legal team shares your commitment to home education because they are homeschooling parents themselves.

2. A coalition of 80,000

You become part of more than 80,000 families standing together to protect and advance homeschool freedoms, both in the United States and in foreign countries.

3. Quick action when freedoms are threatened

You receive email alerts of any state and federal legislation that could impact your homeschool freedoms, and our email updates keep you informed about the latest homeschooling news.

4. Research and analysis

You receive the benefit of HSLDA-funded research on the results of homeschooling, which provides reliable data for the media and general public, as well as for courtroom and legislative use.

5. Valuable discounts

You receive exclusive HSLDA discounts on a range of products and services, such as curriculum, hotels, and insurance.

6. Online curriculum market

You can buy and sell curricula at HSLDA's Curriculum Market—another great way to save money and recycle textbooks.

7. A voice in Washington, D.C.

Your voice is heard in Washington, D.C., where we lobby to keep homeschooling legal and to remind the federal government that it has no jurisdiction over homeschools.

8. A positive image in the media

You and your fellow homeschooling families benefit from the engaging, informative, and dynamic picture of home education that our media relations department presents to the public.

9. Support for homeschooling organizations

Your membership with HSLDA enables us to provide leadership seminars and networking opportunities to state and local support groups, enhancing the services they provide to you and your fellow homeschoolers.

10. Specialized advice

You can seek professional advice from HSLDA's specialized staff, which now includes high school coordinators and special needs coordinators.

What HSLDA means to our family

HSLDA means having an advocate: As homeschooling pioneers in the 1980s, when nobody in our life had homeschooled before and no one believed we should, HSLDA was there.

—Karla A., North Manchester, IN

In 13 years of homeschooling, we personally needed HSLDA twice. Even more importantly, however, they were there, protecting our freedoms every single day.

—Donald and Laurie C., Springfield, VA

We joined HSLDA about 18 years ago to help support other homeschoolers who were in difficult states. The day a social worker showed up on our doorstep, we understood just how powerful it was to have an attorney to deal with it and not to be alone.

—Collin and Margie A., Ashland, OH

HSLDA means confidence and protection for our military family of nine while homeschooling for nine years on three different continents, and in three countries and three states.

—Michelle F., Fort Bliss, TX

HSLDA membership—$115. Feeling secure and confident next time a social worker shows up on our doorstep—priceless.

—George and Christine A., Lakewood, NJ

When my late husband was dying, HSLDA protected our family when we faced an investigation by social services. It eased our emotional pain to know our HSLDA attorney was praying for us.

—Jaynee G., Roseburg, OR
